TEAMBUILDING MODULE

They all worked hard to build a raft large enough to carry everyone to the jungle across the water. Everyone was in a panic to get on board.

Beast Teambuilding Introduction

Beast Teambuilding provides modules and workshops for students, teachers, parents and educators, onsite or virtually to improve achievement, behavior and climate.

Beast Teambuilding lessons are designed around the research findings of the Collaborative for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning (CASEL) and Project Adventure (PA). We put SEL in action.

The five skill categories—self-management, positive relationships, social awareness/empathy, decision making, problem-solving, and teamwork—along with the games and strategies in this module improve achievement, behavior and climate.

With the Beast Team Building Module, Kit, 18 lesson plans and engaging professional development we put Social and Emotional Learning in action helping you to improve achievement, behavior and climate.

Once upon a time, long ago when the Earth was young, there were seven friends who lived together in the jungle: Ant, Crocodile, Elephant, Giraffe, Hyena, Lion, and Owl.

In the story of "The Beast and the Least" the team needed a leader. The Leadership and Teambuilding Behavior DNA™ Assessment is a highly accurate assessment of natural talents. The assessment identifies a person's natural strengths and struggles and how best to interconnect with them and the team. This is our base foundation for leadership and team development, communications, realigning individual roles and responsibilities, coaching and development. The initial assessment takes approximately 20 minutes to complete, and our analysis instantly provides custom results in colorful, concise reports to help your team

Collaboration is key. Leaders and Teammates can be interchangeable depending on the situation.

This activity focuses on key behavioral issues of leadership development, helping educators understand their unique strengths and struggles within the school culture. With this awareness, they can adapt their leadership style to help each person on the team reach their full potential improving student achievement and success.

TEAM TRUST DIAGRAM

In the story of the Beast and the Least Ant, Crocodile, Elephant, Giraffe, Hyena, Lion, and Owl were friends and know one ate anyone, they were a team. The goal of the team trust activity is to help you better understand, accept, and value others who are different and, thus, neutralize the divisive power of differences.

BEAST TEAM MEMBER ANT

Ants are progressive, and proactive - always adapting to their environment and never letting little things like natural disasters get in their way of progress. When we get discouraged, we could all learn a thing or two from the Ant. It's their unsinkable nature that reminds us to keep moving forward for progress.

BEAST TEAM MEMBER LION

Lions tend to be charismatic, prideful, protective, and peaceful unless challenged. They are very tactical, well aware of their own strengths and struggles, able to judge a situation and act to their best advantage through wit and skill. The Lion can teach us to be a better leader and the importance of balancing work with family time and relaxation.

The Beast and The Least Team Building and Leadership Activity

Activity Module: Old Jungle/New Jungle

Age Group: K- Adult

Prerequisites: The Beast and the Least Book

Supplies and Materials:

- Old/New Jungle Team Building Instructions
- Easy to Follow Guide
- 49 Clue Cards
- Team Building Props

First start by reading “The Beast and the Least” upon completing the reading use the higher-level questions matrix to go into the deeper aspects of the story and prepare the group for the team building activity according to their level:

- Primary
- Secondary
- Staff

This Team Building Activity is designed to be delivered indoors or out. All of the props, clues and activities can be customized and set up to the size of your, group, classroom, gym or outdoor space.

This team building activity can be delivered in two different ways. The first way is with 2-7 teams competing to find 7 clues, with the final clue leading the team from the Old Jungle to the New Jungle (and optional incentive). The teams will have a set of different clues, the only one that they have in common is the last one. The last clue is identical because it leads to the New Jungle. The second way to deliver this activity is in one group, working together to complete all 7 puzzles and discover the way to the New Jungle.

This teambuilding activity comes with complete instructions on how to hide the clues. It's easy to set up and deliver. Each team must answer questions and search around the playing area to find the materials for the raft to escape from the fire and the Old Jungle with the entire team.

- How did you function as a team?
- Personal action planning wraps up the activity.
